Projects

Online ID Generator, As part of my final year project, I successfully developed an innovative web-based application called the 'Online ID Generator System.' This project aimed to simplify the process of creating and generating Identification cards using dynamic templates. The system provides users with an intuitive interface to design personalized ID card templates and efficiently produce ID cards based on those templates. The Online ID Generator System offers several benefits, making it an asset for organizations and individuals: Streamlined ID Card Creation, Enhanced Personalization, Easy Access and Management and Cost-Effective., HTML, CSS, JavaScript, PHP
